Antoninus Pius was born Titus Fabius Boconius Arrius Antoninus at Lanuvium, 20 mi south of Rome

His family came originally from the city of NEMAUSUS (Nîmes) in southern Gaul, but had long achieved a leading position at Rome.

He was brought up at LORIUM, a family estate in southern ETRURIA, 10 mi West of Rome. His father died when he was young and he was brought up first by his paternal grandfather then by his maternal grandfather.

The properties he inherited from both made him one of the richest men at Rome.
